

James V. Paldino, II

James V. Paldino, II

Research Analyst

Education:

Washington & Lee University

BA, Mathematics & Economics

University of Chicago Booth School of Business

MBA

Mr. Paldino joined Bradley, Foster & Sargent as a Research Analyst in July, 2020. His primary responsibility as a Research Analyst is to analyze companies and industries in order to gain an understanding of the drivers of businesses and subsequently to develop robust investment conclusions in support of the firm's investment of clients' assets. In addition, he will provide other research and ad hoc support to the research and portfolio management team. Mr. Paldino comes to us from Cigna where he was an actuarial specialist. Previously he worked at M&T Bank as a risk manager.

